YORK, June 30 .- Today' NEW YORK, June 30.—Today's stock market was unsettled by the action of the tariff revision bill now before the house. Many standard shares reacted two to five points and speculative issues fell 5 to 14.

Oil particularly was adversely affected the proposed import duty of 35 cents a barrel on crude products causing acute weakness in all shares of foreign origin.

Mexican Petroleum fell to 38% from yesterday's final quotation of 112%.

yesterday's final quotation of 112%, closing at a net loss of 11% points.

Pan American Petroleum suffered net declines of 4% to 5%. General Asphalt, Atlantic Guif and affiliated shares closed as losses of 2 to 4 points. Other stocks involved in the proposed schedule, including ship-pings, leather and tobaccos, regis-tered moderate sympathetic reactions. but most steels, equipments and mo-tors were comparatively steady. Many secondary or junior rail issues rose one to three points with dividend paying shares on steady buying. Final prices were irregular, shorts covering extensively. Sales amounted to 750,000 shares.

Money was firm on call at 6 per cent, but many extensious of short time loans maturing tomorrow were reported at prevailing rates. All international remittances were lower, sterling reacting about 1% from year.

ternational remittances were lower, sterling reacting about 1½ from yesterday's best quotation. Exchange on Holland, Spain and Scandinavian centers were especially heavy.

Dealings in bonds again were featured by the strength of underlying or convertible rails. Liberty issues closed with a majority of declines the 3½s and first 4½s showing especial heaviness. Total sales, par value, $9,875,000.

to the cashier and the money would be given him.

"Is that the way you do business?" asked the visitor.

"Yes," replied Mr. Jackson,
"But doesn't that man have to give a note or have an indorser?" the visitor inquired.

"Nothing of the kind," was the answer. "He simply goes to my cashier, tells him what I said and the cashier will give the money to the cashier will give the money to him and make entry of the loan. That is sufficient. Never in the
